More About Us

We are in the business since two decades but we are not new to the industry. Our forefathers were one of the finest sculptors of their time and were able to carve anything in any type of stone, so we have all the qualities that a sculptor should inherent in it to become a good craftsman. As we have sculpturing in our blood, we understand, feel the emotions of the stone when a sculptor carves them into shapes. We work more with emotions rather than professionalism because what we believe that we can understand the customer's feeling about the product by emotions not with professionalism.

As we ourselves are the manufacturers we can provide the product directly to the customers without any role of mediator in between, so as to provide the best quality within the best prices.
